Inquiry Started Into Activities Of Assemblyman

Lindsay Under Fire By State Officials In Probe

by HENRY C. MacARTHUR
(Western News Service)

SACRAMENTO —(W. N. S.)— An extensive investigation into the activities of Assemblyman Francis C. Lindsay, Loomis, and the Placer County Soil Conservation District, is being conducted by the attorney general's office, it was learned this week.

The attorney general seeks to determine whether it is legal for Lindsay, a state assemblyman, to collect a salary as head of the soil conservation district.

He also seeks to determine whether Lindsay, in making trips throughout the state, can collect double expenses, from the state as an assemblyman and from the soil conservation district as its chief.

Send Investigator

An investigator was sent to Placer County shortly after the grand jury in that county requested a probe by the state. In addition the state department of finance has completed but not released an audit report on the district and the Placer County grand jury hired private accountants to go into the affairs of the district.

Lindsay, in 1949, sponsored a bill providing $1,000,000 for the purchase on a lease basis of equipment for soil conservation districts.

Big Share to District

Up to the present time, according to reports from the department of finance, the Placer County district has drawn approximately $500,000 worth of equipment, as compared to very little from other soil conservation district in the state.

Some legislators, it was learned, are questioning the value of the soil conservation program if one district can obtain half the funds appropriated for the entire state.

In addition to the equipment purchase and rentals by the state, the Placer County district was advanced by the department of finance $25,000 as a revolving fund to finance its activities.

It was learned from the department that this sum has not been returned to the state.

5 Per Cent Complaint

The advance came after complaints to the department of finance that Lindsay requested equipment dealers to "kick back" five per cent of their sales to the district for use as a revolving fund to assist in getting the work started.

Lindsay admitted that such a request had been made to certain equipment dealers but said the request had been withdrawn because "the five per cent would look bad." The requests were made at the time Washington investigations revealed the five-percenters in the national capital.

Some dealers, however, are reported to have made the five per cent contribution and this is another subject of the audit report, it was stated here.

Several Initiated At Sisters' Session

Forty-six were present at the meeting of Summit Temple 79, Pythian Sisters, last Thursday night when seven were initiated into the order at impressive rites conducted by Captain of the Degree Team Pearl Heller and the 12 members of the staff. Mrs. L. D. Nelson sang a solo and a gift was presented to District Deputy Marian Bates, who with District Deputy Bertha Balsley of Stockton, attended the meeting.

The new menbers are Peggy Ferdinand, Alice Rau, Charma Modl, Alice Carroll, Dorothy Helgeson, Alice Astle and Icalone Kohl. Thirteen members of the Colfax temple attended. Refreshments were served following the meeting at the California Cafe.

Man Fined For Neglecting Debris

TAHOE CITY— Following his conviction on a charge of violating a county ordinance relative to clearing debris from land following logging operations, Lee Noonchester of Tahoe announced he would appeal the judgment of Justice of the Peace C. W. Vernon. He was fined $75.

Noonchester was cited by Clarence Beavers, forest service official.

Fire Prevention Program Plan Of Truckee Firemen

In an effort to keep Truckee's fire record clean, Chief N. F. Dolley of the volunteer fire department, has announced plans for observance of Fire Prevention Week from October 8 to 14.

At the same time the fire chief urged all local residents to cooperate in having electrical equipment examined, flues cleaned and checked for leaks and other fire hazards eliminated.

He particularly urged that all old collections of papers and other debris be eliminated and to assist with this portion of the program, a crew of men with trucks will make a house to house call to cart away the debris free of cost. The program will extend to Gateway and Meadow Park and everyone is asked to have their refuse handy for the collectors.

Dolley said that during the past year Truckee's loss by fire has been far less than $500 and said they hope to beat even that record during the coming year.

OFFICER INJURED IN SPECTACULAR CRASH ON ROAD

A spectacular accident involving several cars and a Lang tank truck and trailer backed traffic up near Rainbow Tavern at noon today for a distance of nearly two miles, according to first reports reaching Truckee. One highway patrolman, Al Tice of Colfax, and others were injured, though not seriously.

Two cars collided and, in attempting to stop, the Lang is said to have jackknifed, breaking the trailer loose and sending it hurtling into the stalled cars. Tice was in one of the wrecked cars taking statements from the driver when the vehicle was hit by the trailer. Patrolman Roy Stallard was directing traffic at the scene.

State Patrolman William Gautsche was dispatched from Truckee to investigate.

Man Held Here Charged With Aiding Convict

Relative Who Identified Kennedy Held On Bail

Deputy Sheriff Fosten Wilson Monday evening took into custody A. C. Nelms, 51, a Truckee logging company employee, charged with aiding and abetting an escaped convict. At his arraignment before Justice of the Peace R. N. Little, Nelms' bail was fixed at $5000 and he is being held pending a preliminary hearing.

Nelms was specifically charged with aiding Charley Kennedy, alias Jack Reed, whose identity as an escaped convict was disclosed following his death from a logging accident last week. The two men, Wilson said, are related.

Kennedy was positively identified by a San Quentin guard who came to Truckee following the disclosure that Kennedy answered the description of a man who escaped from the Bass Lake prison camp in Yosemite August 11.

Wilson said Kennedy has been here over three weeks and during that time Nelms had knowledge of his escape and assisted him in finding employment.

Both roomed and boarded at a Truckee rooming house.

Nelms is married and has a family living in the Galt district. He told the officer he did not realize he was breaking a law and said the only reason he did not tell of Kennedy's identity was because no one had asked him.

MOTOR VEHICLES IN ACCIDENTS IN TRUCKEE REGION

Four motor vehicle accidents, none of them of serious nature, were reported by the highway patrol this week.

Faulty steering mechanism was blamed when a car driven by Betty Jean Yeakel of Tahoe City Saturday morning got out of control, skidded 160 feet down and across the highway five miles south of Truckee and struck a large rock. Patrolman William Gautsche said the driver was not seriously injured.

Orvel Folmer, 24, Reno, was cited by Patrolman Roy Stallard for driving without due caution after his car and one driven by Richard Vera, 23, Antioch, collided a mile east of Cisco Saturday evening. Betty Larson, Reno, was slightly hurt.

A power pole near the Truckee Mortuary was broken Sunday afternoon when a car driven by Harry C. Culp, 18, Floriston, crashed into it after sideswiping a car driven by Louis Goicoa, 20, Truckee, at the intersection of Highway 40 and Church Street. Culp was cited by Patrolman Gautsche for failure to give the proper turning signal.

Traffic at Farad was blocked temporarily when a truck and trailer operated by Henry P. Amaral, 33, Fresno, jackknifed on the road. Patrolman Gautsche cited the driver for operating with defective brakes.

The selection of Henry Loehr as chairman of the Nevada County board of supervisors was a popular choice throughout the county. The local man has proven time after time that he is a capable, qualified administrator and his accomplishments for his district, as well as the balance of the county, during his incumbency, has earned for him the respect and confidence of his fellow supervisors and other citizens of the county. We know he will justify the added confidence that has been placed upon him and we offer congratulations and best wishes.

During the past year Truckee has been extremely fortunate in having no costly fires and strict adherence to a few simple rules to be emphasized during Fire Prevention Week, October 8 to 14, will keep the record clean. Householders are urged to immediately have their wiring checked, have their chimneys and stove pipes cleaned and other heating units examined for possible defects before winter starts. All inflammables should be stored safely and other precautions taken. Overheated stoves, burning soot and carelessness with discarded cigarettes and burning matches are major contributing causes of fires, so above all be careful and keep fire-minded.

In sponsoring scholarships for outstanding students, the AAUW has undertaken a really worthwhile community project — one worthy of the support of the entire district in which the awards are made. The membership of the organization is limited and methods of raising funds for the project are likewise limited, so we suggest that if you wish to assist—and we are confident you do—that you purchase tickets to the AAUW benefit show, Lost Horizon, to be shown at Kings Beach October 10.

NIGHT HUNTERS ARE TAGGED BY WARDENS HERE

Fish and game wardens have turned up a rash of night hunting and spotlight deer hunting in the district in the past week.

Prince, both of North Sacramento, were each fined $100, given 90 day suspended jail sentences and placed on probation for a year. Earl Eugene Ellis, Stockton, will appear before Johnson October 9, with bail set at $500.

Justice of the Peace R. N. Little of Truckee yesterday confiscated the rifles, deer tags and licenses of James Powers Jr. and Stanley Henry Eskotter, both of San Jose, and is withholding further sentencing pending study of the case. C. E. Leiter, Piedmont, was fined $25 by Justice Little for possessing deer tags other than his own.

Loehr Selected To Head Board Of Supervisors

Eastern Area of County Has First Chairman On Board

Henry G. Loehr, Standard Oil distributor here, is the first supervisor from the eastern section of Nevada County to be named chairman of the board.

The Truckee man was unanimously named chairman of the board to fill the vacancy at the head of the group created by the death on September 10 of Warren Odell. He will serve in his present capacity until the reorganization meeting in January at which time he may be in line to succeed himself in the post.

Loehr was elected to the board of supervisors the first time in 1944, succeeding the late Alex Robertson. He was reelected without opposition in 1948 for the second four-year term.

During his terms as supervisor great strides have been made in the development of the district he serves. He has been instrumental in building and maintaining several miles of highways and streets, was a leader in organizing the Tahoe Forest Hospital District and through his efforts has made it possible for the immediate construction of the hospital by securing additional state and federal funds.

The new chairman has organized his district into an efficient, smooth-operating unit and this influence has been extended to other portions of the county where marked progress has been made.

On January 8 the board will reorganize with the newly elected supervisor from the fourth district, to be decided at the general election between Guy Robinson and Ed Kohler, both of North San Juan, assisting in the selection of the 1951 chairman.

FOREST SERVICE ACTS TO ACQUIRE TAHOE PROPERTY

"Lucky" Baldwin's estate at Lake Tahoe, including beach front on Tahoe and Fallen Leaf lakes and most of the remaining virgin timber in Lake Tahoe basin, has been offered to the U.S. Forest Service in exchange for National Forest timber on condition the land be devoted to non-commercial public use.

Millard M. Barnum, assistant regional forester, said the 2500-acre area extends from the south end of Lake Tahoe to Fallen Leaf Lake, about one and a half miles. It includes 6500 feet of beach on Lake Tahoe, more than three miles of shore line on Fallen Leaf Lake, and virgin forest with about 28 million board-feet of timber.

Both lakes are popular for boating, swimming, fishing and camping. The nearby Desolation Valley Wilderness Area in Eldorado National Forest offers hiking, fishing and camping in the High Sierra.

Most of Lake Tahoe's shore line is privately owned, said Barnum, and only a few thousand feet of usable shoreline is available for public recreation. That is in Bliss State Park, Eldorado County public campground and a few small campgrounds maintianed by the Forest Service. These are overcrowded in season.

The mining boom in old days took much timber from around Lake Tahoe. Elisia J. "Lucky" Baldwin opposed the heavy cutting and purchased his land to save some of the virgin timber. His heirs protected it. The historic Tallac Hotel he once operated has been torn down.

The price asked is $750,000. Barnum said, "The Forest Service does not have the funds for immediate purchase. However, under an act of congress, we can exchange National Forest timber to acquire this land. The Baldwin heirs and the Eldorado County supervisors have approved such a plan, and we are proceeding with the acquisition. We hope to have the land available for public use next summer."

Only a trace fell on the 29th when the Lake Tahoe area experienced its first snowfall of the season in the lowlands.

WHY YOU SHOULD PAINT IN THE FALL

THERE ARE A NUMBER OF GOOD REASONS why early fall is the best time to paint. Wood, masonry, stucco and other structural forms are drier in the fall than in the spring. And there is less deterioration to newly painted surfaces in the winter. Also, painting in the fall gives added protection to surfaces when most needed. The absence of strong sunlight during the winter gives the paint a chance to harden thoroughly without cracking. See us for the best in painting supplies.

SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER

Tahoe City, October 2

Dear Tahoeites—

Had a short note from Mrs. Bertha Mawdsley, wife of Captain George Mawdsley whom I mentioned in last week's letter. He has been in the Marine Hospital for over a month with severe pains in his head and stomach and todau's hurried note tells of him having been unconscious for the past four days. I first met the Mawdsleys many years ago through Captain Jack Munfrey of Homewood, whose lakeshore residence they used to visit regularly each summer. A finer couple never lived and during their residence at Tahoe City they made numerous friends, many of whom still live at the lake. Will never forget my last trip around the lake on the steamer Tahoe which Cap Mawdsley piloted for a number of years. The sight of the trim little white steamer against the blue, blue water, smoke trailing out behind, the loudspeaker blaring the latest musical hits of the day as it made its way leisurely from resort to resart distributing passengers, mail and cargo, will be a never to be forgotten memory. Much of the early day romance of the lake disappeared when the sturdy little hull was towed out to the middle of the lake and sunk, the verdict of its owners a blow to residents and vacationists alike. Cap Mawdsley was one of the last to guide her and he too learned to love the trim little craft.

Maizie Carnell has supplied me with Donnie Prusso's address and I publicize it with the hope that some of his many friends will take a little time out and send him a letter. It is PFC Don C. Prusso, AF19364362, 31st Air Police Sq., Turner Air Force Base, Albany, Georgia. Donnie's last missive to the Carnells told of his surprise to find only women bartenders there and of his discomfort with the heat.

Charles Henrikson, who was called back to duty at Hamilton Field with the Air Force, has been granted a 60-day furlough and is back at the lake working like a beaver helping his brother Ollie to catch up with their sand and gravel business.

Robert Dockham, elder son of the Leon Dockhams of the Tahoe Fish Hatchery, who is attending University of California at Berkeley, last week made fullback on the freshman team, realizing one of his fondest ambitions.

The Bill Bechdolts are owners of a new Olsmobile station wagon this week and the Rodney Yeakels are bemoaning damage done to their sedan which came to grief last Saturday on the Truckee-Tahoe highway. Betty was reported to have been driving when the car rolled over but fortunshe escaped injury.

Mrs. Rose Boyiaredes, who has been concocting Lake Inn's delicious meals for the past two summers, is enjoying a rest at her home in Bittencourt Tract. She plans to motor to the bay area in the near future where she'll visit friends before going to Arizona for the winter. Recent guests at her Tahoe City home were Mr. and Mrs. Alen Sitchel and Mrs. Gus Daldas and daughter Aggie, all of San Francisco.

Buck hunters, who are not as plentiful this year as in other seasons, do not seem to be able to find the elusive buck. There are a few left in as they have been sighted from time to time, but for some reason only does seem to make appearances in the local vales. No validations are reported from Judge Vernon, Tahoe Public Campgrounds or Constable Harry Johanson this week.

Billie Callender, son of the Ben Callenders of Homewood, has returned to University of California at Berkeley to resume his studies in business administration. He spent the summer with his folks assisting in the operation of their resort. Bill would not be surprised to get a call from Uncle Sam as he is a member of the Naval Reserve and spent three years as an aerial photographer in Florida in the last war.

Constable Harry Johanson informs me that a wave of stealing is covering the Lake Tahoe area and he advises residents not to leave anything of value where it can be appropriated. The constable says he believes the thieves are posing as hunters to avoid suspicion. It is advisable to leave th doors ef homes unlocked while absent from the premises.

Leave you for another week as beautiful weather prevails, although mornings and evenings are right nippy. Hope this finds you all hale, hearty and happy, as ever, Swanee.

Ludlow has that motel just across the highway from Jones' Cottages and is building another unit over there. We hope you will not forget to write, Tex and Peg, when you get back down to southern California.

Thanks to my friend, Helen Stokes, for taking over for me last week while I sauntered over Santa Cruz, San Jose, San Mateo, Oakland, San Francisco and parts of the San Joaquin valley. Hot! You'd have a hard time making those folks down there believe we had snow on Friday last. It's surely good to be back home.

Mrs. A. E. Abbott is visiting with friends and relatives in Bakersfield.

Wilma Lucas knows what it's like to have a broken toe. One of those home accidents, walking in the dark and finding the davenport too soon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stokes made a short trip to Sacramento and Placerville over last weekend, bringing their daughter, Joan Brown, with her infant son, Richard Charles, home for a while. Richard's father, Corporal Brown, is in Uncle Sam's service.

Brockway Rotary Club is now meeting at Hunter's Lodge, formerly Mont Blanc. Next Sunday the Lake Tahoe Gun Club's grounds will be the setting for an all day get-together of Rotarians. There will be trap shooting, dancing and a buck stew.

Alice Sorensen and her friend, Ethel Richmond of Santa Maria visited Alice's mother, Mrs. Tucker, in Paradise last Sunday.

Sixty-four dinners were served to members of the North Tahoe Women's Club at the Lake Tahoe Gun Club building September 28. Special thanks go to Theresa Sutton who prepared the spaghetti and sauce under handicaps that would have stopped a less determinder person, says Alice Sorensen. On the committee were Unadel Crawford, Alice Sorensen, Fritzy Porath and Theresa Sutton, all doing a mighty fine job. Minnie Wagner and Ethel Richmond served the food in record time. Nina Sorensen as chairman of the entertainment committee did some very good work. Mrs. Dorn and daughter Matilda played and sang several numbers beautifully. Bill Elam, candidate for sheriff of Placer County, spoke briefly before the club. Any candidate wishing the same privilege will be welcomed. North Tahoe Women's Club meets on the last Thursday each month.

Bud and Micky Mandevill celebrated their 16th wedding anniversary last week with a trip to San Francisco and seeing the Contra Costa County Fair, at the same time visiting with Bud's brother, Bob, of Antioch who is on the police force there. Oh, yes, the boys, Clyde and Dick, went along.

Our section of the country will be less lively this winter with the Meisenheimers' place closed. May and George expect to leave for the bay area around the 15th. Betty and Patsy are already gone and in school.

Era Miller left Friday to care for her ailing mother while her sister goes on a two weeks vacation. Then Era will go back to her old job while Mel finishes up a few jobs he has started around the lake. The North Shore Market will be closed this winter.

Bertha Ballard is away on vacation.

Horseshoe Lodge will also be closed for the winter. I hear that Bill and Bonnie will spend some time on their ranch. It is reported that Stevenson's Holiday Inn will also be closed this winter, as well as May's Cottages. Lazy L Court is teetering on the fence—to be or not to be closed.

Wonder if Carry Mercer and Alice Sorensen cught any fish at Frog Lake last Monday.

Building permits issued by Washoe County, Nevada, during September included one to Cal-Vada Lodge, Crystal Bay, for $2500 for repairs and one to George Hart, Crystal Bay, for $6188 for a garage and bedroom.

TAHOE SKI CLUB SLATES WORK ON TWO CENTERS

TAHOE CITY— Directors of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club met at the home of President Jake Stuart in Lake Forest Monday night to discuss the club's plans for improving the winter sports grounds operated throughout the skiing season at Olympic Canyon and just above the Tahoe City golf links. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Donaldson, Arthur Frodenberg and son Rusty, Ray Fellows, Bill Jenkinson, Floyd Carnell, Kjell Rustad, Chris Egsgaard and Bob Stark.

The directors voted to spend approximately $500 to rebuild and enlarge the A jumping hill at Olympic Canyon and to improve the C and D jumps also. Rustad started contacting bulldozer operators for estimates on the work which should be done before the snow flies. The large hill at Olympir Canyon will allow leaps of 200 feet or over when remodeled, making it one of the finest in the nation. Both Olav and Sigurd Ulland, famous jumpers, have visited the Rustads recently and added their suggestions for improving all phases of the jumps, take offs and lower hills.

Rustad also announced at the meeting of the ski club in Community hall here Friday night that he plans to install a new road into Olympic Canyon to his private ski school, Granlibakken, next to Olympic Hill, which will have an entrance from the main Truckee-Tahoe highway across from the Floyd Carnell home. A bridge will be built across the river and the ski grounds can then be reached more easily and quickly. He declared the forest service is interested in sharing the expense of the new road and aiding in its maintenance. It will be built before the winter sports season opens here.

The directors also voted to further develop the slub's ski hill and grounds in Tahoe City which is popular during the winter with weekend vacationists.

The Lake Tahoe Ski Club has been given the Far West Ski Association A, B, C and D jumping events and cross country races this year but the dates have not yet been clarified.

Meetings of the club will be held regularly eacn week after November 1 in community hall and refreshments and movies will regular parts of each meeting. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of Friday's session and a fish and game movie on trout was shown by Ray Fellows to the more than 50 members present.

Because of the heavy schedule of club business in the immediate future, the directors approved enforcement of a long standing rule that children under 12 must be accompanied at meetings by their parents or a guardian. The youngsters are welcome if so accompanied and the cooperation of parents will be appreciated.

My Place In the Sun

Don Ryan has completed his redwood fence around his three lots on the north hill.....a lot of work, deserving of the compliments received.....The SP's paint up project was extended this week to the water service building across the street from our office.....Painters are touching up the trim on the California Cafe.....and Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Carmitchel painting the little house between the Methodist church and parsonage.....all projects adding materially to the appearances of their respective locales.....'Tis reported that Bill Curran is tridextrous, being able to control a handitalkie, a Labrador retriever and a jeep at one and the same time.....perhaps not with ease but at least with skill.....Sheriff Dick Hoskins got his forked buck in the rugged country back of Soda Springs last week.....while E. L. Kyle, his companion from down west, bagged a four master.....The fire alarm before breakfast Sunday ayem was to the Jack Ellis residence.....the other firemen ran up the ladder, handed him a hose and an ax and watched Jack efficiently confine the fire to a couple of boards around an overheated chimney.....after which Asst. Chief Tony Pace scaled the ladder to make sure the job was well done.....'twas.....Tom Borneman returning from Dr. Larry Nelson's office, smiling through the tears....after having the tape removed from his injured chest.

MINOR CRIME WAVE IS REPORTED IN TAHOE CITY REGION

TAHOE CITY— Constable Harry Johanson of Tahoe City has requested the Reno police to be on the lookout for Billie Mason, 25, and his wife, Betty, 22, of Seattle, for whom warrants charging burglary and forgery have been sworn out by Denis Sach of Pineland. Sach told Johanson that he had hired Mason as a painter during the summer. Sach and his wife went away for the weekend and upon returning home found that his checkbook and a block of checks were missing. The Masons were found to have left their rented house in Tahoe Pines. Three merchants in Tahoe City and Truckee reported having cashed checks totaling $327 fonged with Sach's name.

Johanson reports a wave of thievery has hit the Lake Tahoe region and advises all residents not to leave valuable articles about unguarded and not to leave doors unlocked while away from the premises.

James Gowing of Deer Park Lodge on Monday drove to Truckee to attend to some business. Upon returning he found that someone had entered the yard of his resort and stolen a motor attached to a saw, value at about $150. At Squaw Valley, Bud Jones reported to Johanson that two of his finest saddles, valued at around $100 each, had been stolen Sunday night. Y. Fenton Ball, Tahoe City, reported to the contable that the motor was stolen from him boat on Saturday night while the craft was parked on the beach near the Tahoe City commons. Value approximated $350.

CAL-NEVA WILL HAVE PROGRAM FOR WINTER

BROCKWAY— Douglas Ross, manager of Cal-Neva Lodge, said that the lodge will reopen for the winter season New Year's Eve, following a successful summer season, which ended two weeks ago.

The winter opening will be an innovation for Cal-Neva but the popularity of winter sports in the immediate area and the request of scores of skiing enthusiasts brought about the decision.

Ross said the opening will be featured by a gala New Year's party to be followed by a daily program of music, dancing and gaming, with the popular steak house remaining open for the convenience of the guests.
